

Contents

List of Illustrations	viii
List of Maps	ix
List of Figures	x
List of Tables	xi
Series Editor's Preface	xii
Acknowledgements	xiv
Introduction	xvi
1 The Road to War	35
2 A Bad Beginning, 1914	63
3 Gambits and Crises, 1914-1915	85
4 Conquest of German South West Africa, 1914-1915	106
5 Domestic Politics, 1915	130
6 Local Polemics, Public Opinion and Foreign Policy, 1915-1916	153
7 Campaigning in Africa and Europe, 1916	179
8 'Not a Serial Fairy Tale', 1916-1918	210
9 High Politics, 1917-1918	230
10 A Better Ending?	265
Sources	281
Index	309

List of Illustrations

Botha's statue vandalised.	i
Smuts's statue vandalised.	i
Botha's first cabinet, c.1910.	ii
South African prisoners captured at Sandfontein, September 1914.	ii
Black and White South Africans serving side by side.	iii
South African troopers on horseback.	iii
Return of the victorious generals.	iv
South African infantry entering Kondoa Irangi, May 1916.	iv
1st South African General Hospital.	v
Botha and Smuts in East Africa.	v
Cape Town docks, c.1916.	vi
Botha and Smuts on campaign.	vi
Imperial War Cabinet members Lieutenant General Jan Smuts and Major General H.H. Ganga Singh Maharajah of Bikaner.	vii
Imperial War Cabinet, 25 June 1918.	vii
Botha and Smuts at Versailles.	viii
Return from Versailles, 1919.	viii

List of Maps

1.1	South Africa and the 13 military districts of the Active Citizen Force and five districts of the SAMR.	55
3.1	Afrikaner Rebellion: Strategy of the central position.	95
4.1	Advance of South African forces in German South West Africa.	108
4.2	Battle at the Riet defensive line.	115
4.3	The final envelopment.	123
7.1	German East Africa, 1914-18.	183